Celebrating 35 Years of Patient Access Communication

What is the NCAHAM Conference?

It is the annual meeting of the North Carolina Association of Healthcare Access Management professionals. This conference offers attendees the opportunity to fine tune their operations skills, trade ideas with colleagues, and celebrate their role in healthcare.

As An Exhibitor, What Can I Expect?

As an exhibitor, you'll display your products or services at a table in the exhibit area. You'll have exposure to access related professionals who utilize products and services from vendors like you. The vendor marketplace is open during specified times for attendees to accept your invitation to stop by your table and discuss their needs or requirements. You can develop new relationships and reinforce existing ones. In addition, you'll have the opportunity to participate, side-by-side, with your prospective customers in the many interesting and informative meeting sessions and special events.
